CAMPAIGN & TRAIL PROJECT UPDATE

In 2016, Coastal Mountains Land Trust, with support from Maine Coast Heritage Trust and local recreation groups, launched a historic campaign to permanently conserve 1,500+ acres of land on Ragged Mountain, including the watershed around Mirror Lake and Grassy Pond that supplies the drinking water for six Midcoast communities, and build a trail circumnavigating Ragged Mountain.

The Round the Mountain Trail will be a 9-mile outdoor adventure on one of the two highest mountains in the Camden Hills. The trail will serve as the primary corridor for a 20-mile system of trails offering four-season activities for all skill levels including hiking, mountain biking, Nordic skiing and snowshoeing.

We are busy with trail construction and are happy to say there will be three trailheads for access. Anticipated trail opening will be summer 2021.

Round the Mountain Trail Status

- By the end of 2020, 5.5 miles of trail between the Camden Snow Bowl and the new Thorndike Brook Trailhead will be complete.
- Based upon its performance to date, the Land Trust intends to finish the majority of the trail with the crush stone material seen above.

Support Needed

Coastal Mountains Land Trust is seeking to raise $200,000 in gifts or pledge commitments by April 1st, 2021.
